DETAILED ACTION

Status of the Previous Rejections

1. The rejection of claims 6 to 11 under 35 USC 112, second paragraph, has been overcome by the amendments to the claims. The prior art rejections of claims 1 to 11 in view of Koji '601 have been overcome by the amendments to the claims and applicants' arguments. However, upon further consideration, a new ground(s) of rejection is made in view of Sakuma et al. (US Patent No. 6,129,992, cited by the Examiner in the last Office action).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

3. Claims 1 to 5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over Sakuma et al. (Sakuma '992, US Patent No. 6,129,992, cited by the Examiner in the last Office action).

Sakuma '992 teaches steel sheets and plated steel sheets having compositions that overlap the steel composition recited in applicants' claims wherein the steel sheets have a ferrite grain size of 10 to 200 microns which encompasses the instantly claimed grain size of 10 to 100 microns (see column 2, lines 35 to 60). Sakuma '992 also teaches specific examples of processes with operating conditions that overlap the process operating conditions recited in claims 6 to 11 (columns 13 and 14, Table 2). These example processes produce steels having ferrite grain sizes and yield stress values that are encompassed by the ferrite grain size of 10 to 100 μm and the yield stress of 300 N/mm^2 recited in the instant claims (columns 13 and 14, the lower part of Table 2).

Sakuma '992 and the claims differ in that Sakuma '992 does not teach the exact same alloy proportions and process operating conditions as recited in the instant claims.

However, one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made would have considered the invention to have been obvious because the alloy proportions and process operating conditions taught by Sakuma '992 overlap the instantly claimed alloy proportions and process operating conditions and therefore are considered to establish a prima facie case of obviousness. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to select any portion of the disclosed ranges including the instantly claimed ranges from the ranges disclosed in the prior art reference, particularly in view of the fact that;

"The normal desire of scientists or artisans to improve upon what is already generally known provides the motivation to determine where in a disclosed set of percentage ranges is the optimum combination of percentages", In re Peterson 65 USPQ2d 1379 (CAFC 2003).

Also, In re Geisler 43 USPQ2d 1365 (Fed. Cir. 1997); In re Woodruff, 16 USPQ2d 1934 (CCPA 1976); In re Malagari, 182 USPQ 549, 553 (CCPA 1974) and MPEP 2144.05.

Response to Arguments

4. Applicant's arguments, filed June 25, 2008, with respect to the rejection(s) of claim(s) 1 to 11 under 35 USC 102 and 103 have been fully considered and are persuasive. Therefore, the rejection has been withdrawn. However, upon further consideration, the new ground(s) of rejection set forth above has been made.

Conclusion

5. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
